

NELLIE^{VS} Elizabeth

In 1889 when Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland set out on their race around the world, people interacted differently. How is travel and communication different today compared to then?

Nellie and Elizabeth took many forms of transportation on their trip around the world: ships, trains, horse-drawn carriages, even a cable car. Have you ever ridden on a train? A boat? A horse or wagon? What about a cable car?

Have you ever been carsick?
What about seasick?

Do you like to travel?

Where would you like to go?
What sights would you like to see?

Elizabeth bought clothes as souvenirs from her journey.
Nellie brought home a monkey she called McGinty. What would you bring back as a keepsake from your journey?

Nellie and Elizabeth opened the way for even more investigative journalists to do bold things.
Why do you think journalists are important?
Do you think their job is exciting?
Dangerous? Interesting?
